Provide constructive feedback for your classmate on their submission. Below are some guidelines and examples of good feedback to help you leave constructive comments for your peers.

When giving feedback, consider:

Leading with positive feedback

Providing a balance of positive and actionable feedback

Sticking to information-specific, issue-focused, and observation-centered comments

Examples of good feedback:

"This is a great presentation! You cover everything around the tablet rollout, and you told a great story around the data you chose. I do think you could make it a bit more higher-level for the audience."

"I really like these slides, and your presenter notes are really thorough. I think your recommendation for what to improve could've been a little stronger."
