

Item Navigation

Share your domain knowledge

Domain knowledge refers to having specialized expertise in a specific industry, topic, or activity.

Consider your current job, hobbies, or interests.

- What are 2–3 areas in which you consider yourself to have domain knowledge?
- What is one domain that you are interested in learning more about?

Share 5–10 sentences with your fellow learners. Then, explore their reflections in the discussion forums.

- How can you share your knowledge with others?
- Can you find someone who has expertise in something that you would like to learn more about?

There will be times throughout your career when you'll be new to an organization or industry. You might be assigned to a project that's unlike anything you've ever managed before—and that's okay. Expanding your domain knowledge can be a really exciting part of the job!

Participation is optional

Your Reply

Type your response here...

B T U ~~SI~~ X_n x^2

