Your learning journey

In this course, you have learned about the project initiation phase and how to successfully kick off a project. We covered project goals, documentation, key roles, and tools.

Let's reflect on how far you've come. Share 5-10 sentences addressing the following questions:

- Are there concepts or portions of content that you would like to learn more about?
- Is there anything unexpected or surprising that you have learned?
- Are there some responsibilities associated with the role of a project manager that appeal to you more than others?

Then, visit the discussion forums to check out what others shared. Choose two or more posts to comment on and help motivate your fellow learners through their learning journey.
